

STRATEGIC TRAINING NEEDS ANALYSIS

Key focus

1. Explain the strategic purpose of changing the role of training
2. Explain the systematic approach to training
3. Create a model for conducting TNA
4. Conduct 'Training Needs Analysis' and evaluate training needs quantitatively and qualitatively
5. Use the right methodology to collect information
6. Analyze information collected to identify specific needs and prioritize the annual training plan

Who will benefit

Trainers or person in charge of training be it human resource, customer service, technical, medical, teaching, lecturing and any other functions associated with training. This course is ideal for beginners and training administrators who lack training in training needs analysis.

Take The Next Step

Day one

1. The Role of Training in the Organization

- ▶ Why train
- ▶ Benefits of training
- ▶ Training and development
- ▶ When is training needed

0900-1030

Morning tea break

- ▶ The training cycle
- ▶ Phases of the training process

1030-1045

2. Training Needs Analysis (TNA)

- ▶ Rationale for conducting TNA
- ▶ Objectives of conducting TNA
- ▶ Approaches to TNA
- ▶ Conceptual approach to TNA
- ▶ Open system model

1045-1300

Lunch

- ▶ Levels of TNA
- ▶ Who identifies training needs?
- ▶ TNA generic process steps

1300-1400

1400-1530

Afternoon tea break

1530-1545

3. Analysis of Organizational & Departmental Training Needs

- ▶ Why do an analysis of Organizational & Departmental needs
- ▶ Process flow of organizational & Departmental TNA
- ▶ Organizational & Departmental sources of input
- ▶ Data collection techniques

1545-1700

Take The Next Step

Day two

- 4. Analysis of Individual Training Needs
- ▶ Process flow of Individual TNA
  - ▶ Operational / Individual sources of input

0900-1030

Morning tea break

1030-1045

- 5. Operational TNA - Process
- ▶ Classification of jobs
  - ▶ Job analysis

1045-1300

Lunch

1300-1400

- 6. TNA Tools and Techniques
- ▶ Types of tools and techniques
  - ▶ Structured interview

1400-1530

Afternoon tea break

1530-1545

- ▶ Steps in implementing the TNA exercise
- ▶ Format and contents of report

1545-1700

Take The Next Step